MONTHLY BANQUET OF THE BOARD OF TRADE IS ATTENDED BY 200

Program Committee Suggests Plans for Year's Work, Outlining Many Credit- able Things to Be Done

PLEDGES SUPPORT TO THE CITY ADMINISTRATION

Safety Director Collier in a Good Talk Urges Action on Waterworks Situation---Splendid Menu Pre- pared by the Plymouth Church Ladies--- Membership Reaches 768.

Nearly 200 members of the Newark Board of Trade were present at the monthly dinner and business meeting Thursday night which was held in the parlors of the Plymouth Congregational church. The meeting was an interesting one, many reports being made and interesting discussions by the members following.

The reports included one by the program committee, another from a special committee directed to audit the accounts between the Board and the Newark Country club besides a number of resolutions, recommendations and suggestions from different organizations of the city.

The dinner was all that could be hoped for. The ladies of the church provided three long tables in the center of the room with provisions for the "overflow" if the attendance exceeded expectations. Each table was provided with sparkling spring water and the menu consisted of chicken pie, mashed potatoes, escalloped oysters, gravy, pickles and olives, bread, butter, jelly and coffee. The dessert was an excellent combination of fruits with chocolate cake.

Following the repast, President Spencer took charge of the meeting and announced that the program would not be started until 7:30 as a number had expressed their desire to come in for the meeting after the dinner. During the wait, a number of impromptu talks were made.

The president called the attention of the members to the fact that the new buttons, bearing the words "Newark, Ohio, The Busy Factory City," are one of the 1,000 members wanted by the Board of Trade, were the gift of Charles E. Matthews, salesman for a Coshocton novelty manufacturing company.

The announcement was made that the membership of the board had reached 768, seven names being added during the evening. These were Harold Rickett, Frank Mabry, Jesse Snelling, R. S. Stewart, C. E. Bonham, W. D. Gilbert and W. A. Archer, the latter being President of the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly. Mr. Spencer called the attention of the members to the fact that it was easily possible to run the total membership up to 1,000 and urged an effort in this direction. He complimented the membership committee on its faithful work.

E. M. Baugher, chairman of the program committee was presented to the audience and announced that 500 of the 750 paid reply post cards mailed to the members, 195 had been returned to the committee bearing suggestions for the coming year. The committee took these cards and prepared a tentative program which was presented in the form of a report. Mr. Baugher said that the committee had endeavored to embody in the report as many of the suggestions as possible.

The president, in receiving a motion to adopt the report, stated that all the things could be accomplished if there were volunteers for committee work men who were willing to use some energy in accomplishing the things outlined. The report follows:

Your program committee has carefully considered suggestions that have been received from 195 members of the Board of Trade, and has endeavored to follow the ideas of the members in reporting the following proposed program for your consideration.

The committee finds that the members are most interested in two propositions: (1) Enforcement of the laws. (2) A general and continuous clean-up of the city. We respectfully suggest:

1. Law Enforcement. That we urge the continual enforcement of the laws, the regulation of traffic, the enforcement of speed ordinances, and other ordinances relating to the protection of life and property.

2. Clean-Up. That the directors set apart one day in the month of April, which shall be known as "Clean-Up Day," and that an effort be made to eclipse the record of "Clean-Up Day" in 1911, when 1300

The bodies of the slaughtered children lay where they had fallen for three days, when they were hastily buried by a company of soldiers. Later they were interred with full military honors.

In an official statement issued the estimated number of the strikers is 1,049,407.

CHARLES GUCKERT KILLED IN FALL FROM A LADDER AT HOME NEAR GRANVILLE

Charles Guckert, aged about 60 years, one of the best known and most highly respected residents of Granville township, was instantly killed Friday morning, by falling from a 16-foot ladder on which he was standing, engaged in trimming an apple tree. When he fell, he struck on the back of his head, fracturing his skull. He is survived by his widow, Mrs. Albert, of the May store in Newark, and one daughter, Lillie, who lives at home.

During the past few days there has been an unusually large number of fatal accidents in Newark and vicinity, and scarcely a day has passed but that there has been a death of a violent nature or an accident in which the victim has been seriously injured. The accident of Thursday in which two men fell from the roof of the residence of Ed Doe, one of whom was killed and the other seriously injured, shocked the community, which had hardly begun to recover when another accident occurred Friday morning, in which one more human life was blotted out.

For several days Mr. Guckert had been contemplating trimming a number of apple trees and about nine o'clock Friday morning went to the barn and secured a 16-foot ladder, which he placed against one of the trees near the house. He then mounted the ladder and was engaged in trimming the branches of the tree, when the ladder tipped and Mr. Guckert was thrown from his perch, striking on the back of his head, and falling from a height of about 16 feet. His death must have been instantaneous, as his skull was fractured at the back of the crown, where there was an ugly wound.

William Litten, a neighbor, who had been working in a nearby field, saw Mr. Guckert at work on the ladder, but on looking again in a few moments, missed him. He then went over to investigate and was horrified to find his dead body lying under the tree. He at once gave the alarm and several of his neighbors hurried to the scene and carried the body into the house. Dr. A. K. Follett, who was summoned, arrived in a short time, and after making an examination, pronounced him dead.

Coroner Wyrbach, who was summoned, arrived on the first car and viewed the body. He found that the

MUTINEERS MASSACRE HUNDREDS IN PEKING AND APPLY THE TORCH; AMERICANS HIDING IN LEGATION

Peking, March 1.—Throughout the day the looting of stores has been going on in various parts of the city. Several skirmishes occurred between loyal troops and the mutineers. But the majority of the mutineers had left the city before morning. Ten looters were captured as they were leaving the places with their booty, and were executed by loyal troops. Several regiments of these patrol the streets. The incendiary fires started, last night have all been extinguished or died out. The loss is estimated at $15,000,000. The number of casualties that occurred among the civilians and soldiers is not known but in any event it will be heavy. The outbreak came mostly as a surprise to the government and the foreign legations have some apprehension of its continuing.

American and other foreigners are still refugees in their legations. The American legation is crowded and orders have been issued for all foreigners to remain secluded until quiet is restored.

Peking, March 1.—The mutinous troops have departed from the city. The disorders have stopped. Yuan Shi Kai and the Nanking delegates, including Tang Shao Yi, are safe. No foreigners have been injured.

Peking, March 1.—A mutiny of Yuan Shi Kai's soldiers began in Peking at 8 o'clock last night. Many natives have been killed or wounded but so far as known all foreigners are safe. The legation quarter is crowded, but the missionaries are holding forth in their own compounds.

When the outbreak occurred it was estimated that 2000 soldiers took part, but since then the mutineers have been augmented by large numbers of the police, coolies and loafers. The legations know of no

DELEGATES SHOWING OF STRENGTH

On Liquor Question Indicates Restriction on Liquor License Clause

HOME RULE TO FEATURE

New Proposal Which is Now in Hands of Leaders of Middle- of-the-Road Faction.

Columbus, March 1.—The Constitutional Convention adjourned yesterday afternoon till Monday night. Most of the day was consumed in thrashing out the liquor question, without anything decisive being agreed upon.

The test of strength during the contest showed that the element which desires a radically restricted clause is much more powerful than supposed, for it came within two votes of casting a majority vote of the entire convention.

This showing of strength came upon the Anderson proposal, which provided a limitation of the number of saloons to one for each 750 inhabitants of a township or municipality, for a restriction as to citizenship, for a revocation of license as a punishment for infractions of the law and for the prohibition of the brewery owned saloon.

There were 58 members who supported this proposal. The middle-of-the-road delegates will meet here on Monday afternoon for the purpose of reaching a compromise license bill, for a revocation of license as a punishment for infractions of the law and for the prohibition of the brewery owned saloon.

It practically applies the referendum to the question, thus placing a check upon the General Assembly in the matter of favoring any special interest and relegating always to the people the matter of state-wide prohibition. The proposal reads:

"No law prohibiting the traffic in intoxicating liquors in any political subdivision of the state larger than a county, and no law licensing said traffic, shall be enacted to take effect until submitted to a direct vote of the electors of the state and approved by a majority of those voting thereon."

The ballot on the Anderson proposal was taken amid the most intense excitement. The contagion of the hour spread to the clerks, and it required several verifications of the roll call before the result was finally cast up and announced. In the lobby both sides pleaded unsuccessfully with the conservatives to swing either way, but they held fast to the program which was to clear the decks of all pending amendments and proposals and to begin the coming week with an entirely new proposition, if one could be arrived at. The same balloting indicated decisively that the King proposal which was submitted to the convention by the

TAR SOCIAL OF BUCKEYE LAKE YACHT CLUB

Mayor Karb presided as toastmaster at the seventh tar social of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club which was held at the Ohio club in Columbus Thursday evening.

Strength and interest of the Buckeye Lake Yacht club was commented upon by Mr. Vorce and other speakers, among whom were R. B. Woley of Toledo, H. W. Parsons of Sandusky, and Judges Donahue and Kinkadee. Music by the Monkey's Best Quartet, including the rendition of a song, the words of which were composed by Orin Hubbard, were a feature.

After the social the majority of the members who compose the Sunrise club adjourned to the Elks club, where a social session was held. A feature was music by the Monkey's Best Quartet and another quartet that was organized for the occasion. Several Newark members of the club were present.

Saved From Dangerous Operation—Neighbor Advised What To Do For Bladder Trouble.

I, too, wish to add my testimonial to the thousands who no doubt have, and will tell you what your great medicine did for me.

Several months ago I was taken very sick with bladder trouble, had intense pains and suffered greatly, at times I could not stand on my feet or sit in a chair and often was forced to cry out with pain.

I consulted two doctors, who gave me different kinds of medicine, which did me no good. It seemed as though the more of their medicine I took, the worse I became. The doctors seemed to be greatly puzzled over my case and after holding a consultation, I was told that I had a severe case of inflammation of the bladder and an operation was very necessary.

I was being prepared to be taken to the hospital, when a neighbor came to my house and said, "Why don't you try a bottle of Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root?" I was willing to try anything to get relief from my suffering. My wife bought a bottle of your medicine, which I began taking, and soon noticed a change for the better. I continued taking it and got better right along, my appetite returned and I was able to resume work.

I have used about fourteen bottles of Swamp-Root and know that had I not taken it I would have been operated on and perhaps never recovered. I never fail to tell my friends about Dr. Kilmer's Swamp-Root, as I know it will save many people from suffering and perhaps as in my case, a dangerous operation. Yours gratefully, meant that an effort be made to induce the New York Central Railroad Company to bring its line to Newark, that the Ohio Electric Railroad Company be encouraged to establish an interurban station here, and that the proposed extension of interurban lines to Mt. Vernon and to Lancaster be encouraged. Further, that an extension of the city street car service be favored and that the Traction Company be asked to extend its lines so as to provide car service for the sections of the city now neglected.

6. Arbor Day. That as many streets are in need of shade trees, we suggest the general observance of Arbor Day and the planting of trees where they are most needed.

7. Sewage. As one of the big problems that Newark faces is its sewage system and garbage disposal, that we suggest that the city authorities arrange to give relief as quickly as possible.

8. County Library. That we endorse the County Library idea and request the County Commissioners to favor the establishment of a County Library by a 1-10 mill tax levy. This tax will provide for the maintenance of a free County Library, a central library in Newark, with branches in each of the villages or townships.

9. Subways. That we approve of the City Council's action toward elimination of grade crossings, and pledge our support to the city's effort to carry the project to a successful conclusion.

10. New Park. That we hope to see the debris now covering the old Artificial Gas Company's ground removed and the site converted into a city park.

11. Hospital. That we pledge support to the effort that will be made here soon to establish a permanent and modern city hospital in Newark.

12. Members' Meetings. That the committee in charge of monthly membership meetings be asked to have men conversant with the topics discussed the Short Ballot, Employers' Liability Act, Women's Suffrage, Initiative and Referendum and Civic Improvements, or other matters of local public interest.

13. Confidential Bulletin. That the publication of the Confidential Bulletin to members be continued at intervals of one month in order that committees' reports and matters of public interest may be brought to the attention of the entire membership.

14. Electric Signs. That one or two electric signs reading: "Newark, Ohio—A Busy Factory City—30,000 Welcome You," be installed at the railroad stations and that the merchants and manufacturers be requested to use on their stationery embossed stickers bearing the same suggestion, adding to the embossed stickers the words, "Free Factory Sites. Cheap Power and Fuel."

15. City Workhouse. That an effort be made to establish a City Workhouse, public convenience stations and employment bureau.

16. School Houses. That a committee of five be appointed to consider and report upon the proposed bond issue for the establishment of three new school houses.

17. Public Square. That the work of improving the Court House Park be continued and that the County Commissioners be requested to place new lighting standards at each of the four approaches to the court house.

18. Property Inspection. That the Safety Director be requested to arrange with the fire chief for regular inspection of school houses and business property, particularly the basements of frame houses and all buildings in the business section of the city.

19. Canal. That some effort be made to improve the condition of the canal in Newark.

20. Charity. That the proposal from the Salvation Army to establish some system in charity be referred to the Charity Committee, with a recommendation for favorable action.

21. Streets. That greater care be taken in the relaying of pavements, torn up by sewer excavations or water and gas lines, and that cross streets connecting paved streets be paved.

22. Playgrounds. That the School Board be encouraged in the establishment of Children's Playgrounds.

23. Encampment Ground. That the Board of Trade resist any effort to lease the site to the Encampment Grounds, as being the sense of this organization that this ground be held in trust by the Board of Trade and given to the city, county, state or nation, for a public park whenever it will be accepted for said purpose.

24. Stock Sales. That corporations or individuals having stocks or bonds for sale, report the same to the Board of Trade for reference to a committee which shall investigate and report its judgment as to the value of such stocks or bonds as are offered for sale.

25. Vacant Lots. That owners of vacant lots be requested to donate their use for gardens and report the same to the Charity Committee.

26. Factory Fund. That a committee be appointed to solicit subscriptions in the sum of one dollar per month to create a fund for use in locating new industries.

27. Poles. That the public service corporations be requested to remove all unnecessary poles and to paint those poles that remain standing in the business section. Also that tin tags, banners and unsightly signs be removed.

28. Sidewalk Cleaning. That business men be requested to sweep their sidewalks at the close of business, particularly on Saturday nights and that rubbish be removed from cellars and stores at frequent and regular intervals.

29. That a "Made in Newark" exposition be given in Newark this year, accompanying the display of Newark-made products in local store windows and elsewhere of a week's program of music, etc., and special sales by Newark merchants.

30. That the Good Roads Committee of 1911 deserves special praise and that the County Commissioners are to be congratulated for their prompt action upon the proposition to build good roads in Licking county.

Respectfully submitted,
E. M. BAUGHER,
H. L. MONTGOMERY,
C. H. SPENCER,
Committee.

Newark, O., Feb. 29, 1912.

Mr. Blair of the Blair Motor Truck company, referring to the paragraph in the report relative to better side walks, urged that every means be employed to keep people out of the streets. He stated that it was difficult to drive a motor or horse through the streets without running down some one.

J. D. Simkins called the attention of the Board of Trade to the fact that 4,000 school children in the city were compelled this winter to walk through the deep snow to school, many times being compelled to sit throughout the day with wet feet. He urged that the board support a movement to compel people to clean their sidewalks.

He also referred to the fact that the Woodside district and the territory south of the railroad were without street car accommodations. He offered a motion that the board use its influence to bring about relief from the two evils he mentioned.

C. W. Montgomery protested against such an extensive program, it being his opinion that a half dozen or more of the suggestions accomplished would be better than fewer half done.

R. W. Smith stated that with a membership of nearly 800, and with 30 suggested items on the program, made it possible to appoint thirty committees of 25 each if necessary to accomplish the things suggested.

John M. Ankelle, referring to the suggestions urging a work house and convention hall, called attention to the fact that the present city hall was a disgrace to the city. He described the condition of the building saying that in a room 15 feet square there was a difference of nearly 12 inches in the floor from one side of the room to the other. He stated that a new city hall could be made to embody a new city prison, workhouse and convention hall besides removing the unsightly structure which is now a discredit to the city.

E. T. Rugg complimented the committee on its excellent work and offered a motion to adopt the report. J. D. Simkins embodied his suggestions in an amendment which he moved to incorporate in the report. Both motions prevailed.

A communication was read from Mrs. Florence G. Franklin stating that the clubs of the city had engaged Mrs. Agnes McGiffin Bailey of Cleveland to deliver an address on Civic Improvement at the High school auditorium, March 22, afternoon and evening. The committee in charge asked the cooperation of the board.

The proposed "Made in Newark Show" was discussed but no action taken. A letter from the Salvation Army suggesting a systematized plan of charity work was referred to the charity committee.

The president referred to the confidential Bulletin recently issued and announced expected improvements. He read a letter from P. C. Evans in California complimenting the board on what it had accomplished. An extract from a letter from a magazine writer was read in which it was stated that proofs had been read and returned to a prominent publisher on an article on the rebuilding of Newark. It will probably appear in an early issue.

A resolution adopted by the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly urging the board to continue to hold the encampment grounds in trust, rather than dispose of them as a site for a state institution or other purpose.

A. A. Stasel, president of the Licking County Country Club was present and addressed the board. He explained the contract which existed between the board and the club. He detailed how the board came into possession of the grounds and told what had been done and what would be done in the future.

He compared the condition of the grounds today and that of two years ago, when the land was under cultivation. He stated that the beautiful and historic mounds were being obliterated by the cultivation of the fields. Today these mounds are being preserved.

Mr. Stasel described the condition of the property today and stated that it was open at all times for public visitation, that while so open was exempt from taxation as a public park. He said many had visited the place last summer and that the place would be more beautiful the coming summer.

He said that he hoped some day in the future that the place would be turned into a public park, but that the city and county were not able to maintain a public park of that size.

He said that the club had spent $16,000 on the grounds, the bulk of it for the club house, but much of the balance went for improvements that would always be of value to the grounds, such as wells, roads, walks, trees, etc.

Chairman Berge of the auditing committee directed to examine the accounts of expenditures at the Country Club, made the following report:

February 29, 1912.

Mr. C. H. Spencer, President Board of Trade:

Dear Sir: Your committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Country Club, beg leave to report as follows:

We have had presented to us, and have examined, all bills and accounts for labor and material used and expended for permanent improvements on the grounds leased by the Board of Trade to the Country Club. We find the following:

For permanent roadway... $665.89
For gas and water lines... 609.58
For excavating for water and gas lines... 188.25
For drilling and equipping two wells... 130.63
For sidewalks... 131.31
For breakwater and protection to banks and removing logs, brush, etc... 74.72

Total for permanent improvements... $1800.38
From the above total we deducted $298.60, which is the amount expended on roadway and walks outside the grounds, leaving a total credit for the two years ending Apr. 1, 1912, of $1401.78. Against this credit there is a charge of $1300.03 for two years' rental to April 1, 1912. Deducting this leaves a balance due the Country Club of $101.75.

We find the Country Club has a lease on the roadway from the Granville Road to the Country Club grounds, with option to purchase at any time within twenty years for two hundred and fifty dollars ($250).

Your committee recommends that the Board of Trade purchase this roadway at the actual cost for improvements, which is $298.60, and take over said lease and option. Respectfully submitted,

FRANK L. BEGGS,
J. P. IRWIN,
W. M. MORGAN,
Committee.

Mr. Hall, a resident of Newark township, urged the Board to take over the option because of its value to the ground. Charles Stase Mr. Prout, Mr. Irwin and others discussed the report of the committee and it was adopted.

RESOLUTIONS ADOPTED.

The following resolutions were adopted by George B. Sprague and D. I. Keller were unanimously adopted by the Board of Trade:

Be it resolved by the Board of Trade of the City of Newark, Ohio: First. That we emphatically favor the enforcement of the laws of the state of Ohio and nation and the ordinances of the city of Newark and that we pledge our support (Mayor Swartz and Director of Safety) in their announced determination to enforce the laws upon the statute books.

Second. That the Board of Trade, believing in a square deal between capital and labor, invites both capital and labor to join with the organization in the promotion of every interest.

Third. That we congratulate the several labor organizations that have seen fit to elect delegates to represent their several organizations in this body and invite other organizations to follow their example.

Fourth. That this initiation of labor is not an effort upon the part of this organization to cater to a class, but to show all classes that this association has no special interests to serve, but seeks to promote the welfare of the entire community without regard to politics, religion, class or station.

Fifth. That this organization stands firmly for the right of property, in that it denounces the use of violent or unlawful methods in the accomplishment of any purpose.

Sixth. That the Board of Trade believes in personal rights and personal liberty, in the protection of home industries and home institutions; that this body urges that preference be given to local mechanics, local merchants and manufacturers.

Seventh. That the Board of Trade favors an honest and business-like administration of local affairs without regard to party lines; that it demands a clean, low, clean government, civic improvement and advancement of the city's interest along every right line.

Mr. Collier acknowledged the compliment paid to the city administration in the resolutions and assured the board that the ordinance would not be betrayed. He mentioned threatening letter which had been received during the past few days. He said that the safety department was now investigating certain out-of-town firms which had been raffling off watches, bicycle and other articles, including groceries. He said the department was endeavoring to stop this practice.

He called attention to the fact that the city had spent nearly $800,000 for waterworks system and less than $15,000 to get good water. He said that this organization should take an active interest in the waterworks situation and without regard to politics urge the administration to better the conditions. He said the council was inactive in the matter.

He then referred to the need of a workhouse. He said that the city set aside $700 for feeding prisoners at the city prison and more than half this amount had been spent during January and February. The city fed and housed these prisoners and got nothing in return for it. The majority of them were no fit to be turned loose on the street.

Ben B. Jones urged the support of the Board of Trade to the work of the country club board. He said the board was now contemplating a building for merchants' display and he thought that the present theatre building might be remodeled and used for this purpose.

Cyrus J. Nevins asked for the result of the vote of the board on the proposed postoffice site. The president reported the following result:

Sherry good site... 26
Metz & Miller... 136
M. E. church... 136
Seller Hotel... 16
Prout homestead... 26
Keene property... 7
Fleek-Scott site... 1
Woodbridge property... 1
Brown Realty Co. site... 1
Pythian site... 10
George Welch property... 1
A. Thomas property... 1

This matter was discussed, but it was thought the matter was out of the hands of the Board of Trade and no action was taken.

RESOLUTIONS OF TRADES ASSEMBLY

Following is the resolution of the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly regarding the encampment or Country Club grounds:

Whereas, The Board of Trade has received a deed from the state of Ohio for the State Encampment Grounds of this county and is holding the same in trust; and,

Whereas, The questions have arisen as to whether the Board of Trade shall hold the grounds in trust or whether the city and county shall make an effort to secure said grounds and be subject to their disposal; therefore, be it

Resolved, By the Newark Trades and Labor Assembly that as a preference between the two propositions, we especially urge that the Board of Trade hold said grounds in trust; and be it further

Resolved, That a copy be spread upon the minutes of this Assembly and a copy be given the Board of Trade.

THE NEWARK TRADES AND LABOR ASSEMBLY. W. A. Archer, President.

S.S.S. DRIVES OUT RHEUMATISM

Rheumatism is in reality an internal inflammation—a diseased condition of the blood cells which supply the nourishment and strength necessary to sustain our bodies. Uric acid, an irritating, inflammatory accumulation gets into the circulation because of physical irregularities, and then instead of nourishing and invigorating the body, the blood irritates and inflames the different nerves, tissues, muscles and joints, because of its impure, acid condition. The pains and aches and other disagreeable and dangerous symptoms of Rheumatism can never be permanently cured until every particle of the cause is driven from the blood. S. S. S. does this because it is a perfect blood purifier. It goes down to the very bottom of the trouble, purifies and cleanses the circulation, invigorates the blood, and completely drives Rheumatism from the system. Plasters, liniments, soothing lotions, etc., may be used for the temporary relief and comfort they bring, but a cure cannot be effected until S. S. S. has removed the cause. It frees the blood of every impurity and makes it a rich, health sustaining fluid, to bring permanent relief and comfort to those who suffer with Rheumatism. Book on Rheumatism and any medical advice free to all who write.

CHAPTER XII.

The Portal of Hope.

"This—," the speaker was Judge Price; "this is the place for me. They are a warm-hearted people, sir; a prosperous people, and a patriotic people with an unstinted love of country. I'd like to hang out my shingle here and practice law."

The judge and Mr. Mahaffy were camped in the woods between Boggs' and Raleigh. Betty had carried Hannibal off to spend the night at Belle Plain.

"I crave opportunity, Solomon—the indorsement of my own class. I feel that I shall have it here," resumed the judge pensively. "Will you stroll into town with me, Solomon?" he asked. Mahaffy shook his head. "Then let your prayers follow me, for I'm off!" said the judge.

Ten minutes' walk brought him to the door of the city tavern, where he found Mr. Pegloe directing the activities of a small colored boy who was mopping out his bar. To him the judge made known his needs.

"Goin' to locate, are you?" said Mr. Pegloe.

"My friends urge it, sir, and I have taken the matter under consideration," answered the judge.

"Well, the only empty house in town is right over yonder; it belongs to young Charley Norton out at Thicket Point Plantation."

The house Mr. Pegloe pointed out was a small frame building; it stood directly on the street, with a narrow porch across the front, and a shed addition at the back. The judge scuttled over to it. The judge's pulse quickened. What a location, and what a fortunate chance that Mr. Norton was the owner of this most desirable tenement! He must see him at once. As he turned away to re-cross the street and learn from Mr. Pegloe by what road Thicket Point might be reached, Norton himself galloped into the village. Catching sight of the judge, he reined in his horse and swung himself from the saddle.

"Yes—a Living Target!" said Murrell.

"I was hoping, sir, I might find you," he said.

"A wish I should have echoed had I been aware of it!" responded the judge. "I was about to do myself the honor to wait upon you at your plantation."

"Then I have saved you a long walk," said Norton. He surveyed the judge rather dubiously, but listened with kindness as he explained the business that would have taken him to Thicket Point.

"The house is quite at your service, sir," he said, at length.

"The rent—" began the judge.

But Mr. Norton, with a delicacy equal to his own, entreated him not to mention the rent. The house had come to him as boot in a trade. It had been occupied by a doctor and a lawyer; these gentlemen had each desamped between two days, heavily in debt at the stores and taverns, especially the taverns. And thus handsomely did Charley Norton acquit himself of the mission he had undertaken at Betty Malroy's request.

That same morning Tom Ware and Captain Murrell were seated in the small detached building at Belle Plain, known as the office, where the former spent most of his time when not in the saddle.

"So your sister doesn't like me, Tom—that's on your mind this morning, is it?" Murrell was saying.

"Make it worth my while and I'll take her off your hands," and Murrell laughed.

Tom favored him with a sullen stare.

There was a brief silence, during which Murrell studied his friend's face. When he spoke, it was to give the conversation a new direction.

"Did she bring the boy here last night? I saw you drive off with him in the carriage."

"Yes, she makes a regular pet of the little ragamuffin."

"Is the boy going to stay at Belle Plain?" inquired Murrell.

"That notion hasn't struck her yet, for I heard her say at breakfast that she'd take him to Raleigh this afternoon."

"That's the boy I traveled all the way to North Carolina to get for Fentress."

"Oh—you don't say?" cried Ware.

"Tom, what do you know about the Quintard lands; what do you know about Quintard himself?" continued Murrell.

"He was a rich planter; lived in North Carolina. My father met him when he was in congress and got him to invest in land here. They had some colonization scheme on foot—this was upward of twenty years ago—but nothing came of it. Quintard lost interest."

"Oh, he held on to that."

"Quintard has been dead two years. Tom, and back yonder in North Carolina they told me he left nothing but the home plantation. The boy lived there up to the time of Quintard's death, but what relation he was to the old man no one knew. Offhand, Tom, I'd say that by getting hold of the boy Fentress expects to get hold of the Quintard land."

"That's likely," said Ware; then struck by a sudden idea, he added: "Are you going to take all the risks and let him pocket the cash? If it's the land he's after, the stake's big enough to divide."

"He can have the whole thing and welcome. I'm playing for a bigger stake." His friend stared at him in astonishment. "I'm kicking a speculation into shape that will cause me to be remembered while there's a white man alive in the Mississippi Valley! Have you heard what the niggers did at Hayti?"

"You let the niggers alone; don't you tamper with them," said Ware. He possessed a profound belief in Murrell's capacity. He knew how the latter had shaped the uneasy population that foregathered on the edge of civilization to his own ends, and that what he had christened the Clan had become an elaborate organization, disciplined and flexible to his ruthless will.

"Look here, what do you think I have been working for—to steal a few niggers? That furnishes us with money, but you can push the trade too hard and too far. The planters are uneasy. The Clan's got to deal a counter blow or go out of business. Between here and the gulf—" he made a wide sweeping gesture with his arm. "I am sweeping the country with my men; there are two thousand active workers on the rolls of the Clan, and as many more like you, Tom—and Fentress—on whose friendship I can rely."

"Sure as God, John Murrell, you are overreaching yourself! Your white men are all right, they've got to stick by you; if they don't they know it's only a question of time until they get a knife driven into their ribs—but niggers—there isn't any real fight in a nigger, if there was they wouldn't be here."

"Yet you couldn't have made the whites in Hayti believe that," said Murrell, with a sinister smile.

Ware, feeling the entire uselessness of argument, uttered a string of imprecations, and then fell silent.

"Well, how about the girl, Tom?" asked Murrell at length. "Listen to me, Tom. I'll take her away, and Belle Plain is yours—land, stock and niggers!" said Murrell.

Ware shifted and twisted in his seat.

"Do you want the land and the niggers? I reckon you'll have to take them whether you want them or not, for I'm going to have the girl."

CHAPTER XIII.

Bob Yancy Finds Himself.

Mr. Yancy awoke from a long dreamless sleep, heavily-lidded, his eyes slid open. For a moment he struggled with the odds and ends of memory, then he recalled the fight at the tavern, the sudden murderous attack, the fierce blows Slosson had dealt him, the knife thrust which had ended the struggle. Therefore, the bandages that now swathed his head and shoulders; therefore, the need that he should be up and doing—for where was Hannibal?

Suddenly a shadow fell obliquely across the foot of his narrow bed, and Cavendish, bending his long body, somewhat, thrust his head in at the opening. He found himself looking into a pair of eyes that for the first time in many a long day held the light of consciousness.

"How are you, stranger?" he demanded, in a soft drawl.

"Where am I?" The words were a whisper on Yancy's bearded lips.

"Well, sir, you are in the Tennessee river for certain. Polly! you jest step here."

But Polly had heard Cavendish speak, and the murmur of Yancy's voice in reply. Now her head appeared beside her husband's.

"La, you are some better, ain't you, sir?" she cried, smiling down on him. "It's been right smart of a spell, too; yes, sir, you've laid like you was dead, and not for a matter of hours either—but days."

"How long?"

"Well, nigh on to three weeks."

They saw Yancy's eyes widen with a look of dumb horror.

"And you don't know nothing about my nevy?—you ain't seen or heard of him, ma'am?" faltered Yancy.

Polly shook her head regretfully.

"Ten or thereabouts, ma'am. He were a heap of comfort to me—" and the whisper on Yancy's lips was wonderfully tender and wistful. He closed his eyes and presently, lulled by the soft ripple that bore them company, fell into a restful sleep.

The ratt drifted on into the day's heat; and when at last Yancy awoke, it was to find Henry and Keppel seated beside him, each solacing him with a small moist hand. Mrs. Cavendish appeared, bringing Yancy's breakfast. In her wake came Connie with the baby, and the three little brothers who were to be accorded the cherished privilege of seeing their poor gentlemen eat.

"This looks like bein' alive, stranger," he commented genially.

"You-all ain't told me yo' name yet?" said Yancy.

"It's Cavendish. Richard Keppel Cavendish."

"My name's Yancy—Bob Yancy."

Mr. Cavendish exchanged glances with Mrs. Cavendish. By a nod of her dimpled chin the lady seemed to urge some more extended confidence on his part. Chills and Fever seated himself at the foot of Yancy's bed.

"Stranger, what I'm a-goin' to tell you, you'll take as bein' said man to man," he began, with the impressive air of one who had a secret of great moment to impart. "Ever hear tell of lords?"

"No," Yancy was quick to notice the look of disappointment on the faces of his new friends.

"Are you ever heard of royalty?" and Cavendish fixed the invalid's wandering glance.

"You mean kings?"

"I shore do."

Yancy made a mighty mental effort.

"There's them Bible kings—" he ventured at length.

Mr. Cavendish shook his head.

"Them's sacred kings. Are you familiar with any of the profane kings, Mr. Yancy?"

"Well, taking them as they come, them Bible kings seemed to average pretty profane." Yancy was disposed to defend this point.

"You must a heard of the kings of England, sho', wa'n't any of yo' folks in the war agin' him?"

"Td plumb forgot, why my daddy fit all through the war!" exclaimed Yancy. The Cavendishes were immensely relieved.

"Now you-all keep still," said Cavendish. "I want Mr. Yancy should get the straight of this here! The various orders of royalty are kings, dukes, earls and lords. Earls is the third from the top of the heap, but lords ain't no slouch."

"Dick had ought to know, fo' he's an earl himself," cried Polly exultantly.

"Sho', Richard Keppel Cavendish, Earl of Lambeth! Sho', that was what he was! Sho!" and some transient feeling of awe stamped itself upon their small faces as they viewed the long and limber figure of their parent.

"These here titles go to the eldest son. He begins by bein' a viscount," continued Chills and Fever. "It was my great grandfather come over here from England. His name was Richard Keppel Cavendish, same as mine is. He lived back yonder on the Carolina coast and went to raisin' tobacco. I've heard my grandfather tell how he'd heard folks say his father was always luntin' in his hicker; that he was a heap better than he seemed, and if people only knowed the truth about him they'd respect him mo', and nobly treat him better. Well, sir, he married and riz a family; there was my grandfather and a passel of girls—and that crop of children was the only decent crop he ever riz."

"My grandfather said he never knowed a man with the same aversion agin labor as his father had. Folks put it down to laziness, but they misjudged him, as come out later, yet he never let on."

"Then one day he got his hands on a paper that had come across in a ship from England. All at once, he lit on something in the paper, and he started up and let out a yell like he'd been shot. 'By gum, I'm the Earl of Lambeth!' he says, and took out to the nearest tavern and got b'lin' full. Afterward he showed 'em the paper and they seen with their own eyes where Richard Keppel Cavendish, Earl of Lambeth, had died in London. My great grandfather told 'em that was his uncle; that when he left home there was several cousins—but they'd up and died, so the title come to him. He never done a lick of work after that."

"I'm an orphan man of title now and it's been my dream to take Polly and the children and go back to England and see the king about my title. Don't you reckon he's got the notion the Cavendishes has petered out?"

Mr. Yancy considered this likely.

The furious shuffling of a steam-packet's whistle broke in upon them.

"It's another of them haws, wantin' all the river!" said Mr. Cavendish, and fled to the steering car.

Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Noland entertained quite a number of young people at their home Saturday evening. People from three counties were present. At midnight a bounteous supper was served. All present admitted that it was the first time they ever saw two pianos in one room in a country home. Mr. Noland having purchased a piano for his children some years ago and his daughter Zura was so fortunate as to win one in a word contest last November.

The next number of the lecture course will be given Friday evening, March 1, by Andrew Harney.

over the remains of Mrs. Alma Van Winkle at the Presbyterian church, Monday, Feb. 26.

Mr. and Mrs. Ross Huff spent Sunday at the home of W. A. Noland.

Preaching services will be held in the Presbyterian church morning and evening, Sunday, March 3.

The Advocate is pleased to make this announcement and will be glad to receive any contributions that are made and to hand some to Mrs. Smart.

ALL-RUN-DOWN AND GENERALLY MISERABLE

New Tonic Tona Vita In Use at Health Resorts For This Trouble

If you are nervous and run-down with little vitality or ambition, and feel generally miserable and half-sick you are suffering from nervous debility. If so you should investigate the new tonic, "Tona Vita," and find out what a great record it has made since first introduced scarcely a year ago.

Do you know that "Tona Vita" is now pronounced by hundreds of physicians as the most remarkable tonic known? Do you know that "Tona Vita" is used in high-class sanitariums and health resorts as a nerve food and tonic? Do you know that during the past year more than fifty thousand people have stated over their own signatures that "Tona Vita" has completely restored their health?

Mr. James L. Hickey of 289 North

Division street, Buffalo, N. Y., the well known National League Umpire, is one of these. This is what he says: "The nature of my profession frequently necessitated irregularity in sleeping and eating and as a result I became a victim of nervous debility. I had bad headaches and indigestion. My nerves troubled me also and I did not get sufficient rest from my sleep. I would become fatigued very easily and was almost prostrated by hot weather."

"I had tried other means to restore my normal condition when a friend suggested the tonic 'Tona Vita.' I took his advice and am glad of it. My appetite improved at once. My headaches became less frequent and have gradually disappeared and I am no longer nervous or depressed. My stomach is now in perfect condition, in fact, I am thoroughly rejuvenated."

"We have an agent in every city who will refund the purchase price if 'Tona Vita' fails to completely build you up. R. F. Collins, 27 North Third street, has the agency for Tona Vita in Newark, O. The Approved Formula Company, Dayton, Ohio.

INITIATIVE AND REFERENDUM DEFINED BY LICKING COUNTY'S DELEGATE, HON. HENRY C. KELLER

Numerous requests are made to the Advocate for the publication of a succinct definition of the terms Initiative and Referendum. The Advocate knows no better authority on the subject than Licking County's delegate to the Constitutional Convention, Henry C. Keller. In an interview with him he gave the Advocate the following briefly expressed definition.

What the Initiative means is that in all cases where the General Assembly has failed or refused to act the people shall have the right to initiate laws by petition and have them placed upon the ballot to be voted on by the people to determine whether they want such laws as petitioned for or not.

The Referendum means that when a petition is filed against any law enacted by the General Assembly said law shall be placed on the ballot and voted upon by the people for ratification or annulment. In other words the Referendum places the veto power with the people.

A Physician's Report on Tuberculosis Medicine

"I have used Eckman's Alternative in several cases of tubercular glands of the neck, with excellent results every time. In one case it cost me $50. for the girl who had it only a month, and she was arranged to be operated, and in a short time an operation was not needed. I suppose your records are just as fine as of old. You know my faith in it."

—Dr. J. H. Garvin, Idaho Falls, Idaho.

"Gentlemen: I have gained twenty-two pounds since last February and my baby is in perfect health. She is now four months old. I have been waiting since she was born to see how I would get along. I am now doing all my work, and I am ever since she was four weeks old, and I am steadily gaining."

—Mrs. M. E. Garvin, (Signed) MRS. M. E. GARVIN, Note—Mrs. Garvin is the mother of several children.

Eckman's Alternative is effective in Bronchitis, Asthma, Hay Fever, Throat and Lung Troubles, and in upbuilding the system. Does not contain poisons, opiates or habit-forming drugs. Ask for booklet "Tuberculosis Medicine" and write to Eckman Laboratories, Philadelphia, Pa., for more evidence. For sale by all leading druggists.

CONGRESSMAN W. A. ASHBROOK

Writes of George Washington as a Master Mason and Reminiscences of the Knights of Pythias.

Washington, Feb. 29.—Next to the day when there was born in the manager the lowly Nazarene who brought "peace on earth and good will to all men" is the 22nd day of February. The anniversary of these two natal days will ever be sacred to all the Americans. Their observance and sacredness should be daily taught at the mother's knee, in every school room and exemplified in the lives of all men. The former sacred to all mankind everywhere, the latter to all lovers of liberty.

George Washington was born one hundred and eighty years ago in West Moreland county, Virginia. Since his life is best known of all Americans I will not refer except to some of the things less generally known. He was a soldier, statesman and Mason; to the latter I refer briefly. George Washington was made a Master Mason one hundred and sixty years ago at Cumberland, Va., when he was twenty years old. It was possible for George to be "well recommended" before he was of "lawful age" no one now knows. George appears to have been first in everything and certainly was a most illustrious craftsman.

In 1788 a charter was granted to a Masonic Lodge at Alexandria, Virginia, which George Washington was its first Master. After his death the name of the lodge was changed to Alexandria—Washington Lodge. It might be interesting to know that the first Masonic lodge instituted on this continent was in Virginia, so this old state is not only the mother of Presidents but of the Masonic order as well. For nearly one hundred years February 22nd has been appropriately observed by this Lodge. I considered myself fortunate to receive an invitation this year from Alexandria Lodge for this occasion and gladly accepted the same. Alexandria is only six miles down the Potomac and Mt. Vernon the estate where Washington lived and died is four miles below Alexandria. President Taft paid a visit that afternoon to Mt. Vernon to deposit a wreath of flowers upon the tomb of our first President. Upon his return Mr. Taft visited the Alexandria Lodge and was seated in the chair which Washington occupied while serving as Master. George filled the chair well and Taft filled it full. This is indeed a historic lodge room and here may be seen many sacred relics. The trowel which Washington used to lay the cornerstone of the Capitol at Washington the jewel he wore, the Bible upon which he was obligated and upon which he obligated others, etc.

Following a short session, Lodge closed in due form and the guests repaired to the banquet hall where a fine dinner was served by the Eastern Stars. The program consisted of many beautiful and eloquent eulogies. Over twenty Grand Masters from other states, Senators, Congressmen, et al were present. It is proposed to build a million dollar Masonic Temple at Alexandria as a memorial and that the priceless relics may be preserved for all time. I was pleased to be seated at the banquet table by the side of Lawrence Washington, who is the last male survivor of this family and who was born at Mt. Vernon. George Washington was his great great uncle. George, you know, like myself, could not claim a Rooseveltian benediction on account of his progeny. He had a hazy a chick, but his brother Lawrence was more fortunate. Lawrence Washington the fourth is the only living male descendant of the name, but he don't propose to let it die as he told me he had eight sons and four daughters. Lawrence presented a handsome diamond studded jewel on behalf of the Lodge to the retiring Worshipful Master that night and gave evidence of considerable ability as a speaker. He now lives in Washington and has a position in the Congressional Library.

Masonry is truly an ancient and honorable institution. King Solomon is said to have been its first Grand Master and all down through the succeeding ages neither the desastations of war nor the corroding tooth of time has laid waste or destroyed its beautiful and benign influences. So long as the name of Washington lives Masonry will survive.

The visitor to the Capitol who fails to visit Mt. Vernon and Alexandria is like the man who goes to Niagara but fails to see the Falls.

I have written a few lines that may interest my Masonic brethren and will now refer to pleasures that I have recently had which I feel will be fully as interesting to my Pythian brothers. The order of Knights of Pythias cannot boast that it has endured for centuries although its origin dates back to the dark ages. This order was founded in this city forty-eight years ago on the 19th day of this month. Two of the original charter members still survive and live here. I have had the pleasure of their acquaintance meeting with them in the lodge room and hearing from their own lips of the early days of Pythianism. I have examined the original minutes of Washington Lodge No. 1, the first lodge ever instituted and conversed with the brother who recorded them.

Justice H. Rathbone the founder of this order was an actor. He was par of a minstrel show which stranded in Michigan in 1859. During the winter of 1860 he taught a village school at Eagle Harbor, Michigan. While there teaching school he wrote the ritual practically as it is used to day. In 1863 he secured a Government clerkship and came to Washington. Rathbone was a great singer and with other government clerks organized a choral club of five. To the members of this club he suggested the organization of a fraternal society founded on the beautiful story of Damon and Pythias with friendship, charity and benevolence as its cardinal principles. He read the ritual he had written four years before in the lonesome pine woods of Michigan to these boys, so they were then only boys. They appreciated then as we do today the beauties of that ritual and on the night of the 19th of February, 1864, while the great Civil War was raging the first Pythian lodge was instituted. It was the intention of the founder of the order to confine its membership to Washington and to government clerks.

Shortly after Franklin Lodge No. 1 largely through the activities of good old Bro. Ed. Dunn was organized as the Navy Yard. Soon after Washington Lodge became defunct because of differences that arose among its members. Franklin Lodge absorbed it and so today Franklin Lodge No. 1 has the honor and distinction of being the foster mother of this great order. It has been my pleasure to meet in this historic old lodge and there greet Bro. D. L. Burnett who was one of the original members of the order and also Bro. Dunn the only surviving member of Franklin Lodge. Bro. Burnett has been an employee of the government for over fifty years and is still on Uncle Sam's payroll. He is well preserved, dignified and knightly gentleman. Bro. Dunn was the first Supreme Grand Chancellor of the order and has perhaps done more for the order than any living man. I wrote him a few lines one day asking for some information. The next Sunday, which was one of the stormiest days of the season, there was a rap at my office door and there stood this venerable old brother. He said "I am too old to write much any more Bro. Ashbrook, and so I concluded to run up and see you and tell you all about it." I never spent a more enjoyable hour than with this old diamond in the rough. He has lived true to the principles of Pythianism, aiding the widow and orphan with generosity seldom equaled and now in the evening of life has the rare satisfaction of reflecting upon a "useful, well spent and unselfish life."

Rathbone died at Lima, Ohio, in 1889 and is buried at Utica, N. Y.

The choral club builded wiser than they knew and soon lodges were instituted in all of the eastern states, until today there are nearly one million Knights throughout the length and breadth of the land endeavoring as best they can to emulate the beautiful lessons of our great order.

I am a Knight of Pythias.
WILLIAM A. ASHBROOK.

HEART AND HOME TALKS

Bachelor Living For Business Women

I AM going to live just like a man," said an up-to-date business woman recently to a friend.

The remark is rather significant of woman's changing attitude toward life. This woman was not mannish, in the usual sense of the word. But she was practical. She had taken a responsible position. She saw that certain things about a man's life were sensible. And she determined to adopt them.

"I am going to live in apartments," she went on to explain, "where I will be perfectly comfortable. But I am not going to do one thing about those apartments. Men don't dust and clean after they have had a hard day's work at the office. And neither shall I. I am doing a man's work, and I shall live a man's life. I will get my meals in the dining room of the apartment house, good, substantial meals, too. I don't even mean to sew on a button. When I get through with my work, I am going to rest, relax, enjoy myself, do whatever I think will make me refreshed and ready for my work next day."

She certainly was right. And the woman who does this is not making herself mannish. She is simply picking out those sane, sensible parts of a man's life, which in themselves are sexless, and incorporating them into her own life, now that it has become in its workaday hours like a man's. Just as women, who spend their lives in the business world, will in time have to adopt those features of men's dress that save time and strength. This does not mean that they will wear trousers and derby hats. It simply means that they will have to eliminate from dress, those many little things that require so much time to arrange. They were all right when women had the time to fuss over them. But the woman who is carrying heavy burdens must not take time to fuss over them. She must have a man's life, a man's position, waste time with sleeve and collar and powdered wig.

And these changes that are coming in these superficialities of life do not mean that women are less womanly or men less manly. It simply means that they are adapting themselves to the changes that advancing civilization brings.

And if more business women would take the stand this woman has taken, there would be fewer of them breaking down, going to pieces under the strain, and becoming nervous wrecks. The business pace is too strenuous today for the business woman, especially of a big position, to be a home-woman in the sense of doing home work in addition to her business duties.

THE POULTRY YARD.

(Farm Journal.)

Do not expose the fowls to strong March winds.

Never set a thin, lousy hen. She won't stay her time out.

On cold evenings the hens must be sent to roost with full crops.

Especially at this time of the year the fireless brooder is to be recommended.

For early hatches it is best to give not more than eleven eggs to a hen, or those on the outer edge may become exposed and chilled.

Any egg eaters in the flock? Make the nests as dark as possible; that will help. If that doesn't discourage the culprit, sharpen up the ax.

The brooder is more responsible for poor results than is the incubator. The brooder has not yet reached the stage of perfection that the incubator has.

Early spring winds are pretty trying to hens. They have been shut up so long that they are tender and feel the blasts. Shelter them well till the days are warmer.

A good way to prevent hens from overturning their drinking vessels is to punch a hole in the side, near the top, of a tin pail or old tomato can, and hang it up on a nail driven into the woodwork of the chicken house, about six inches from the ground. Be sure there are no sharp edges to the can, or that the head of the nail does not protrude more than half an inch.

Most of the methods of "breaking up" hens from sitting are cruel, and tire and distress the innocent hens, who are not to blame for their instinct. The kindest way is the following. When it is necessary to stop the incubation, place the hen in a nice clean coop alone, with fresh grass, and all the fresh meat, cut fine, that she will eat. The meat immediately increases the egg nourishment, and while the hen is having a really good time, she is fast preparing herself to commence laying eggs. It will take but two or three days before she forgets all about sitting, having other affairs to attend to.

Constipation, if Neglected, Causes Serious Illness

Constipation, if neglected, leads to almost innumerable complications affecting the general health. Many cases of typhoid fever, appendicitis and other severe diseases are traceable to prolonged clogging of the bowels. Regarding the effects of constipation, C. E. Ayers, 6 Sabin St., Montpelier, Vt., says:

"I was afflicted with constipation and biliousness for years, and at times became so bad I would become unconscious. I have been found in that condition many times. Physicians did not seem to be able to do me any good. I would become weak and for days at a time could do no work. Not long ago I got a box of Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets, and after using them found I had never tried anything that acted in such a mild and effective manner. I believe I have at last found the remedy that suits my case."

Thousands of people are sufferers from habitual constipation and while possibly realizing something of the danger of this condition, yet neglect too long to employ proper cathartic measures until serious illness often results. The advice of all physicians is, "keep your bowels clean," and it's good advice.

Dr. Miles' Laxative Tablets are sold by all druggists, at 25 cents a box containing 25 doses. If not found satisfactory, your money is returned.

At any rate, the woman who eats onions can't keep that secret. It's going to leak out.

A man's idea of perpetual youth is to always feel young; a woman's is to always look young.

It's a wonder some people don't get tired carrying around their good opinions of themselves.

The fellow who wins the pot is apt to think none are so blind as those who won't see a raise.

Dare to do right—and you will generally find yourself left.

Daddy's Bedtime Story—

Popsie Perkins' Lost Red Handkerchief

JACK and Evelyn looked at the clock. "Time for our story, daddy," they said.

Daddy smiled as he began: "Popsie Perkins had a handkerchief. It was a lovely red handkerchief, bright as the tulips that came peeping up through the earth in spring, and Popsie was very proud of it. Popsie's grandma had given it to her.

"And when Grandma Perkins gave Popsie the handkerchief she said: 'Now, Popsie, dear, I hope you will be very, very careful of it.'

"But Popsie was sure, so sure she wouldn't lose that handkerchief. Popsie was always sure before things happened.

"So she put the handkerchief into the little pocket of the red sweater she wore and went out into the garden with Rover for a romp.

"As she laid her clothes neatly beside her little bed, Popsie thought of her nice red handkerchief and put her hand into her little red sweater pocket. The handkerchief was not there. Popsie had lost it. Popsie, in her nightgown, ran weeping to tell of her loss.

"Can't you remember where you had it last?" mother inquired, and even brother, who was used to Popsie losing things, was a bit sympathetic, for it was not often she cried.

"Popsie was quite sure she had put the handkerchief into her pocket when she started out into the yard with Rover. More than that, Popsie did not know.

"Let's hunt it," suggested brother. And hunt it they did—upstairs, downstairs, cellar and attic, and Popsie's papa even got a lantern and went out into the garden to look around the paths, for Popsie was sure she could never sleep a wink until that handkerchief was found.

"And in the midst of their search in walked Sarah, the housemaid. It had been Sarah's evening out.

"Popsie and Sarah had always been very warm friends, and every one thought it in very poor taste when Sarah, after being told of the missing handkerchief, dropped down on the nearest chair and shook with laughter.

"Oh, such a joke! was what they heard when Sarah managed to get breath enough to speak. Then Sarah waddled to the library table, pulled out the drawer and there lay Popsie's red handkerchief.

"Miss Popsie was a-goin' to put it into the pocket of her red sweater, but she said Rover might pull it out, so she asked me to lay it away for her till she came in, and here it is, Miss Popsie never asking for it."

HELPFUL HINTS ON HAIR HEALTH

Scalp and Hair Troubles Generally Caused by Carelessness.

Dandruff is a contagious disease, caused by a microbe which also produces baldness. Never use a comb or brush belonging to some one else. No matter how cleanly the owner may be, these articles may be infected with microbes, which will infect your scalp. It is far easier to catch hair microbes than it is to get rid of them, and a single stroke of an infected comb or brush may well lead to baldness. Never try on anybody else's hat. Many a hat-band is a resting place for microbes.

If you happen to be troubled with dandruff, itching scalp, falling hair or baldness, we have a remedy that we believe will completely relieve these troubles. We are so sure of this that we offer it to you with the understanding that it will cost you nothing for the trial if it does not produce the results we claim. This remedy is called Rexall "93" Hair Tonic. We honestly believe it to be the most scientific remedy for scalp and hair troubles, and we know of nothing else that equals it for effectiveness, because of the results it has produced in thousands of cases.

Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is devised to banish dandruff, restore natural color where it has been brought about by disease, and make the hair naturally silky, soft and glossy. It does this because it stimulates the hair follicles, destroys the germ matter and brings about a free, healthy circulation of blood, which nourishes the hair roots, causing them to tighten and grow new hair. We want everybody who has any trouble with hair or scalp to know that we think that Rexall "93" Hair Tonic is the best hair tonic and restorative in existence, and no one should scoff at or doubt this statement until they have put our claims to a fair test, with the understanding that they pay us nothing for the remedy if it does not give full and complete satisfaction in every particular. Two sizes, 50 cents and $1.00. Remember, you can obtain Rexall Remedies in Newark only at our store—The Rexall Store. Frank D. Hall, 10 North Side Square.

EVERY MINUTE COUNTS WHEN YOU ARE IN PAIN

Instant Relief for Indigestion and Stomach Troubles Afforded by a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet. Free Trial Package.

There is no occasion to suffer five minutes from indigestion or any similar stomach trouble when you can so easily get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets.

The Time It Takes a Messenger to Get Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets Seems An Age to a Sick Stomach.

When millions are used every year—and when every other man or woman that you meet will recommend Stuart's to you if you will but inquire—why do you continue to suffer from stomach trouble? What more evidence can you ask? And as still further proof you can even send and get a sample package entirely free. The sample will surely convince you.

The reason why Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets accomplish such results are very easy to understand. These tablets contain almost the same elements as the gastric juices of the stomach. And when your stomach is sick and not working just right, it does not give out enough of the natural digestive juices to properly take care of the food you eat. So if you will only give the stomach a little help by taking a Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablet you will relieve it of its chief duty and allow it the rest it needs to recuperate. One grain of the active principle in Stuart's Dyspepsia Tablets will digest 3000 grains of food, whether you place it in a glass jar or in your stomach.

All druggists sell them. The price is 50 cents per box. If you prefer to try them first write to F. A. Stuart Co., 150 Stuart Bldg., Marshall, Mich., and a sample package will be sent you free.

DISTURBS AUDIENCE

If you have any curiosity about the number of people here who have bad coughs just notice the next time you are at church or in any public gathering. You will hear someone coughing almost all the time. We have said before in this paper that there is an unusual amount of bronchial trouble now, and this is because so many people neglect it. There is no excuse for letting a cough hang on for months and years. The proof of this fact is that a remedy which cures stubborn cases right along would cure at first if taken then as it should be.

Mrs. E. B. Millard of Middletown, N. Y., says "Having used Vinol for chronic bronchitis which I have had for three or four years I can recommend it highly. It has given me very satisfactory results."

Take Vinol right away, and it will build you up, and stop your cough. It is doing this for thousands of others. We pay back your money if you are not satisfied with Vinol. P. D. Hall, druggist, Newark, O.

MR. F. H. BALLOU GIVES ADDRESS

At the annual banquet of the Marietta Board of Trade, which occurred the evening of February 27, F. H. Ballou, assistant Horticultural of the Ohio Experiment Station, by request, read a carefully prepared paper dealing with the horticultural history of the lower Muskingum valley (which was the pioneer garden and orchard section of Ohio) and the attractions, opportunities and possibilities of the same and adjacent areas, at the present time, as demonstrated by extensive horticultural investigation and experiments conducted by the Ohio Station within the past three years.

In point of interest and enthusiasm this banquet was declared to be the greatest event of the kind the Board has so far held. The assembly room of the court house was beautifully decorated. Six long, attractively decorated dining tables afforded places for 250 members and guests. The favors were large, highly-colored specimens of Rome Beauty apples which had won first prize at the recent State Apple Show at Marietta and which were grown on Fairview Heights overlooking the city.

At the close of the program Mr. Ballou by the unanimous vote of the members of the organization, was made a life member of the Marietta Board of Trade.

Headache?—It's Your Liver

Too Many People Take Headache Powders When a Liver Tonic is Needed.

Try Olive Tablets—The Substitute For Calomel.

Dr. Edwards' Olive Tablets are the one substitute for dangerous calomel. They do all of calomel's work without any of its bad after effects.

There is no necessity, when you take Olive Tablets, of following them up with nasty, sickening, gripping salts or castor oil, as you should after taking calomel.

Olive Tablets do not contain calomel or any other metallic drugs; they are a purely vegetable compound mixed with olive oil, sugar coated, easy to take and never gripe or cause weakness.

Thousands of people take one every night at bedtime just to prevent disorder of the liver, constipation, bad breath, pimples, headache, etc.

Olive Tablets are made of pure vegetable compounds mixed with olive oil.

Dr. Edwards, calomel's old enemy, discovered the formula for Olive Tablets after seventeen years of practice among patients afflicted with liver and bowel troubles.

Try them for a week. Take one on retiring nightly.

"Every little Olive Tablet has a movement of its own."

10c, and 25c. per box.

AMUSEMENTS

Last Night's Play.

A fair-sized audience saw Thursday evening's play of "A Child Slave" at the Auditorium theatre.

Miss Dorothea Keyes played the part of the child slave and her ingenious interpretation of the role saved it from any sordidness. The play is laid in small quarters of San Francisco and the characters are made up of artists, dope eaters, Chinese japs, society folks and artists' models.

The entire company pleased in their efforts, and, as usual, Miss Dorothea Keyes won much favor for herself in her specialty numbers. On Saturday a matinee will be given, and tonight the play will be the feature offering of the company, "The Darling of Paris."

Keyes Sisters. A large audience greeted the Keyes Sisters last evening, at which time they presented the story of slum life in "Frisco," "The Child Slave."

Tonight they will present "The Darling of Paris," a French drama, their feature play, being dramatized from the famous novel, the plot being laid on the Bourse, the Walling street of Paris. One of the most exciting scenes ever seen in the local playhouse, at the climax of the second act, at which time stocks rise and fall, causing most exciting and intensely interesting moments of intense realism.

Tonight the Jersey cow, Venus, will be given away to the holder of the lucky ticket.

Special matinee Saturday at 2:30, at which time all children will receive a nice box of Keyes Sisters Kisses free.

Nancy Boyer. After an absence of over six months, Nancy Boyer on arrival in this city, will be back at the company's starting point. Opening here on Labor Day, her tour has been the most successful in the company's history. For the return dates several new and high grade plays have been secured, notably "The Morals of Marcus," from the pen of Wm. J. Locke, and the plan in which, under the Chas. Frohman management, Marie Doro was starred; "The Frisky Mrs. Johnson," in which Amelia Bingham starred, and as a special feature, "When Knighthood Was in Flower," from the book of the same name, and the most successful play of Julia Marlowe. Beverly of Graustark" will also be presented. It is a play full of romantic situations, and admits of much elaboration, the way of costuming and scenic effects.

NEWARK MEN HAVE LEASED THE WELLER

The announcement was made yesterday at Zanesville that the Weller Theatre would be used for moving pictures after the first of April with Messrs. Criticos and McNeal of Newark in charge. Criticos and McNeal had pictures at the Auditorium theatre here last summer. They were in Zanesville Thursday looking over the house.

Mgr. Canning of the theatre is in New York city and it seems that after the first of April the Reis attractions formerly played at the Weller will be played at the Schultz. The Reis lease on the Weller theatre expired in August while the lease on the Schultz house runs for some five or six years.

ALLEN W. BALL SUCCUMBS TO PARALYSIS

Allen W. Ball, better known to his hundreds of friends in Newark and throughout Licking county as "Bally" Ball, died at his home on Buena Vista Hill, this city, on Thursday night after a lingering illness. About two years ago he sustained a stroke of paralysis, which affected his throat and hindered his eating, and he had been in bad shape ever since.

Mr. Ball was aged 71 years. He was a son of the late Joseph Ball, who was one of the founders of the Ball & Ward carriage works that was established here in 1837, and had lived in Newark all his life. He obtained a good common school education in the public schools of Newark, after which he learned the trade of carriage trimmer in the Ball & Ward carriage works, and for many years worked at that business.

At the breaking out of the civil war he enlisted in Company H, of the Third Ohio Volunteer Infantry, which was the first company organized in Licking county. Capt. Lon McDougall being the commanding officer. He remained with his regiment for three years and after serving his term of enlistment re-enlisted in the 192d O. V. I., with the rank of adjutant of the regiment, which position he retained until the close of the war.

After his discharge he returned to Newark and for many years worked at his trade in the old shop. He was a member of Encampment No. 31 U. V. L., and was also a member of Newark Lodge, No. 97, F. and A. M. He is survived by his aged step-mother, Mrs. Ball, who is 87 years old, one sister, Mrs. George Kingsbury of this city, one step-sister, Mrs. Brown of Chicago, and two step-brothers, Hal Ball of Toledo, and Lawrence Ball of this city.

At this time it is not known when the funeral services will be held.

DR. WRAY BEATTIE DIES AT AN ADVANCED AGE

Dr. Wray Beattie, a well known resident of this city, died at his home in Monit street, on Thursday evening at 8:15 o'clock. He had been in failing health for the past two years but his condition did not become serious until about three months ago, since which time he has rapidly failed, his death being due to the infirmities of old age. Just a few days ago he had written in a book containing a history of the Beattie family, a brief outline of his life in which he wrote, "Died in February, 1912."

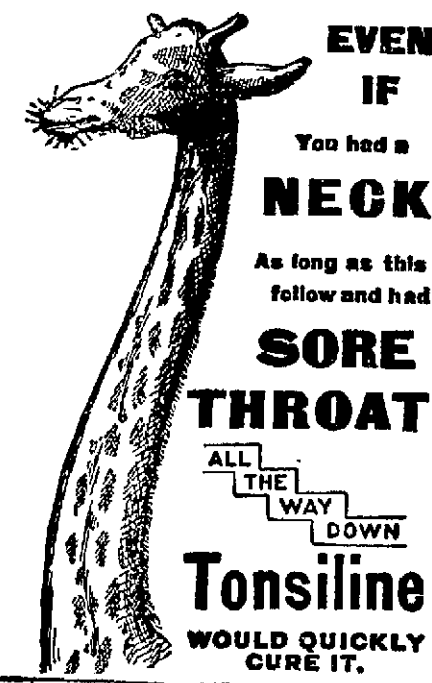

The deceased was born in Ireland in 1831, and came to this country with his parents when only two years old. He had lived in Ohio the greater part of the time ever since. He had crossed the Atlantic ocean four times and had traveled between the Atlantic ocean and the Rocky Mountains ten times, in fact he had traveled extensively over a greater part of the civilized world. He had obtained degrees from the Ohio Wesleyan University, Iowa Wesleyan University, St. Louis Medical College and had served as vice president of the Iowa Wesleyan University. Twenty-five years of his life had been spent as professor of mathematics, astronomy, ancient languages and natural sciences in various parts of this country and South America. He was also a missionary in South America. For thirteen years he served the government and was justice of the peace and postmaster in Colorado. He practiced his profession for thirty years, chiefly in Washington, D. C.

In 1856 he was married to Miss Phoebe Jenkins of Ohio, and from this union three children were born, all of whom are dead. Mrs. Beattie died about six years ago. One grand-daughter, Mrs. Helen Booher, and a grandchild, Paul Booher, both living at the home, survive, also a nephew in Washington, D. C., and three nieces in Croton, Ohio.

The funeral services will be held Sunday afternoon at 1 o'clock sharp, at the home in Monit street, the Rev. L. C. Sparks officiating. The funeral will be under the auspices of Newark Lodge, No. 97, F. and A. M. of which the deceased was a member and the interment will be made in Cedar Hill cemetery.

OBITUARY

JOSIAH MCKINNEY.

Josiah McKinney was a good man, and now that he is dead the community in which he lived suffers a great loss.

The writer was intimately acquainted with Mr. McKinney for a period of at least thirty years, and he can therefore truly say that "Cy" McKinney was a good man, a good citizen in every respect, a good business man, good to his family, good to his neighbors, and true to his friends. He was "an honest man, the noblest work of God."

When such a man passes away forever, then surely the public as well as his family suffer a great loss. At the time of his death, my friend was 74 years of age, having been born on the 25th day of February, 1836. He died on the 27th day of February, 1912, in the form where he was born.

All his life he lived and worked on the old farm, with the exception of about two years which in his early manhood he spent in Idaho. Mr. McKinney's father came from Westmoreland county, Pennsylvania, in the year 1814, and shortly thereafter settled on the "old farm." His mother was a Virginian. Both of his parents were noted for their intelligence, industry, integrity and thrift, all of which qualities were inherited by him.

Josiah McKinney was a moral man, and a very conscientious man. He was sensitive on the subject of right and wrong, and in his intercourse with mankind he was always careful to do the right thing. On several occasions, I have known him to do the wrong thing to himself in his over-care to deal fairly with another.

Although Mr. McKinney accumulated a fortune, he was a very generous man, and it cannot be said of him that he got rich by keeping all the money which came into his hands. He gave freely and spent freely, but notwithstanding that, at the time of his death, he was the owner of about 600 acres of Licking county land and about 1300 acres of land in New Mexico.

Mr. McKinney was married on the 26th day of May, 1875, to Miss Sarah Christine Searbrough. She was a very superior lady, and from the time of her marriage until her death, on July 1st, 1900 she struggled by her husband's side to raise and provide for their family. There are three children of this marriage living, all happily married. Clinton S. McKinney, the oldest, is a prominent farmer in Newton township. Edgar McKinney has always lived on the old farm and for several years has almost exclusively had the management and control of it. Elizabeth (Libby, as her friends call her) is the wife of Cary Bricker, who is the owner of the City Drug Store, in Newark.

These children of "Cy" McKinney have the sympathy of all persons who know them, and who knew him. Their devotion to their father and his devotion to them, was beautiful to look upon. Farewell, our friend, farewell. This is a word which makes us linger, yet—farewell.

MRS. WM. F. DAYTON.

Anna Eliza Foley was born in Frederick county, Md., Oct. 2, 1847, and died March 1, 1912, at 10 o'clock. She was united in marriage to Wm. F. Dayton at Martinsburg, W. Va., Sept. 24, 1868. From this union the following children were born, Arthur, Edward and Helen of this city; George of Milwaukee, Wis.; Leonard, of Zanesville, O.; Mrs. E. T. Abbott, of Coshocton, O.; Roland, of Dayton, O.; Walter, who died in infancy, and Elmer, of Cleveland. Besides her family she leaves two brothers and two sisters, Mrs. Fannie Staggars of this city, Mrs. Julia Darby of Ft. Smith, Ark., Charles Foley of Columbus, O., and Robert Foley of Los Angeles, Cal.

Funeral services Sunday at 2 p. m., at Second M. E. church.

ELIAS OSTIN EDWARDS.

Elias Ostin Edwards was born at Morristown, N. J., Aug. 3, 1822, and came with his parents to Ohio in 1839, making the trip overland in a wagon. Their first stop was in Knox county. A little later they crossed into Licking, where E. O. Edwards, as he was always known, ever afterward made his home.

He was the son of Levi and Phoebe Douglas Edwards and was the second child in a family of ten children, two sisters and a brother of whom are still living.

On March 3, 1857, he was united in wedlock with Rachel Ann Miles. Of the nine children born to this union, seven are living. Two, Catherine and Charles, died in early manhood and womanhood.

When a young man he became a member of and was baptized in the Church of Christ.

In his last sickness he was perfectly resigned, saying that he had lived his allotted time and was not only willing, but anxious to go.

He died at his home in Johnstown on Feb. 24, 1912. Funeral services were held at the Wilkins school house on Tuesday, Feb. 27. He was buried in the Barnes cemetery, beside his daughter and son.

He is survived by his wife, 7 children, 25 grandchildren and 25 great-grandchildren.

Always cheerful, always optimistic, there was never a cloud so dark but he could see the silver lining. And while—

"No voice is heard, no sign is made, No step is on the conscious floor, Yet Love will dream, and Faith will trust."

(Since he who knows our need is just), That somehow, somewhere, meet we must.

An unusual occurrence this time in the year was a large snake killed by Cle King several days ago along the Winegardner spur of the Miller Ditch. A revival meeting was conducted at the Oakthorpe Christian Union church by Rev. M. A. Lamp of Newark. Despite the storms the past week the people braved them and showed their interest. The Spirit seemed equally active as was evident from those who have manifested a desire to live Christian lives.

MUTINEERS

(Continued from Page 1.) American consul-general at Mukden, and now the representative of a New York financial syndicate, and his wife, who was Miss Dorothy P. Whitney, daughter of the late William C. Whitney, and Daniel A. De Menocal, representative of the International Banking Corporation at Peking, and his wife, all of whom had thrilling experiences as they traversed the streets in which Chinese troops were engaged in looting.

The soldiers did not attempt to interfere with them, but there was great danger from flying bullets and firebrands, which were flung in all directions. Mr. and Mrs. Straight saved their records and valuables, but deserted a richly furnished home, which was given over to the looters.

The American is the most exposed legation, lying outside the main quadrangle of the quarter. The American end of Legation street is the only unclosed section. The legation recently considered putting up barricades, but not caring to excite Chinese suspicion, merely depended on setting bags and barbed wire, which has been more effective rearranged for defensive purposes.

The British legation is sending detachments throughout the city to protect British missions. The American commandant, Major Russell, says the American missions are all well supplied with rifles and are able to defend themselves. The Japanese is the only legation without frontage on the Chinese city. Therefore the Japanese detachment is reinforcing the others and also doing special out-post service beyond the sand bags.

The Peking garrison now numbers about 2000 and it is not expected that the Chinese will attack the legations, their object being pillage. The sight of the soldiers along the legation walls silhouetted against the burning city was an impressive one tonight. The flames illuminated the golden-tiled roofs of the palaces and threw a glare upon the thousands crowding the streets and struggling among themselves for loot they are unable to carry away. As yet fires have not broken out within the Forbidden City, indicating that the Manchurian troops are guarding the empress dowager and the emperor faithfully.

Foreign soldiers who returned to the quarter after service in the streets and fugitives who have arrived describe their experiences as thrilling. Chinese soldiers broke into hundreds of houses. Sometimes they desisted when informed that the house was the property of foreigners. Only articles of great value were taken. Property of all kinds, which had been gathered up in the first attacks, was cast aside to make room for loot of greater value. Dead and wounded were lying in the street.

The American minister, Mr. Calhoun, and Major Russell consulted with the American missions by telephone. All expressed their preference not to leave their own compounds. The Methodists are within a block of the quarter and can be rescued easily if endangered. The Young Men's Christian Association members have taken refuge in the American board compound, where a detachment of American marines reinforces the missionary garrison. The Presbyterian mission lies to the northernmost corner of the city, three miles from the legation quarters.

A telephone message informed the legation that the mission occupants feared to traverse the streets because they were surrounded by marauding soldiers, who frequently shot through the iron bars of the compound's gates. Major Russell offered to send a detachment to escort them to the legation, but considered it inexpedient to detach sufficient troops to remain there. Two or three American families have not been heard from, but it is presumed no harm has come to them, owing to the fact that foreigners have not been molested.

ENDLESS TROUBLE

Follows an Attack of the Grip Unless the Blood Is Built Up and Purified.

Few diseases so shatter the health as the grip. Its victims all tell the same story. They are left despondent, tired, faint and weak in every way. They have no appetite, ambition or strength; cannot sleep, and suffer from headaches, backaches and nervousness. In this weakened condition lies the real danger of the grip. The body falls an easy prey to bronchitis, pneumonia and even consumption. Nearly every form of nervous trouble has also been known to follow an attack. The work of the grip is so complete that many of its victims date their years of sickness from a single attack.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People give the quickest and most thorough relief from the after-effects of the grip. They build up and purify the blood, drive the poisons out of the system and give strength and tone to the entire body. They make the body able to resist the dangerous diseases which follow an attack.

Mr. M. D. Rowland, of No. 123 Allegan street, East Lansing, Mich., says: "After an attack of the grip my stomach was left in a very bad condition. My appetite was poor and what little I did eat my stomach could not digest. After each meal I had terrible pains and cramps which could be relieved only by vomiting. I was getting in bad shape and worked only part of the time. I doctored for over a year and was relieved for a time but would soon feel as bad as ever. I noticed in a paper that Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People were good for my trouble and gave them a trial. I was helped after taking them a while and finally entirely cured. The cure must be permanent as I haven't had a return of my trouble in any form."

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills for Pale People are the most direct cure for all diseases due to impure or impoverished blood, as anemia, chlorosis, rheumatism, weakness, following fevers or operation due to overwork and worry.

A valuable booklet, "Diseases of the Blood," containing helpful information will be sent upon request.

United States. No license shall be granted to any applicant who is in any way or manner peculiarly interested in the business conducted at any other place where liquors are sold or kept for sale, nor shall such license be granted unless the applicant or applicants are the only persons in any way or manner peculiarly interested in the business asked to be licensed, and that no other person shall in any manner whatsoever be in any way interested therein during the continuance of said license.

The strongest feature of this proposition is that it gives to localities the right of home rule in the matter of fixing the number of saloons and the amount of the license tax, subject to whatever general laws are adopted by the General Assembly. It also preserves the present local option laws and does not impair the right of the General Assembly to pass additional legislation or to repeal existing statutes in the future.

Delegate Bowdler, of Cincinnati, moved to table the radical Anderson amendment. On this a tie vote was cast—58 to 58.

The result necessitated a second vote which came upon the question of adopting the Anderson Amendment. The result was practically the same, although the vote stood 59 yeas to 58 nays.

On the next round the Winn substitute, representing the minority of the Liquor Committee, was laid upon the table 61 to 55. Next came the proposition of the majority or the King proposal. This went down with the others, the vote being the most pronounced, resulting 67 to 50. To save the situation Delegate Doty of Cleveland, then moved the engrossment of the Anderson proposal No. 151, to which all of these subsidiary matters were attached, and the placing of it at the head of the calendar to be taken up next Tuesday at 2:30 p. m. It is believed by that time that a compromise will be reached between the liberals, who stood for the King proposal, and the conservative license element, which will result in final action upon the entire question.

"License to traffic in intoxicating liquors shall hereafter be granted in this state, and license laws operative throughout the state shall be passed with such restrictions and regulations as the general assembly may provide, and the general assembly may authorize municipal corporations and townships to provide for the limitation of the number of saloons and for the payment of the amount of license fees, in whole or in part, under general laws applicable thereto; provided that where the traffic is or may be prohibited under laws applying to counties, municipalities, townships or residence districts, or other districts prescribed by law, the traffic shall not be licensed in any such local subdivision while any prohibitory law is operative therein, and no such restriction shall be so construed as to repeal, modify or suspend any such prohibitory laws now or hereafter enacted or to prevent the future enactment, modification or repeal of any similar prohibitory or regulatory law.

This was known days ago, but the position taken by the majority of the convention absolutely establishes the truth of this statement. It is just as clear that the radical dries do not control the convention, and that there is no hope for the submission of a state wide prohibition alternative when the license clause is finally agreed upon.

The only question to be settled is the measure of restriction that will be placed in the clause when it is finished by the conferees.

It can be stated with authority that the basis of the compromise will be the following draft of a clause which is in the hands of the leaders of the middle-of-the-road faction of the convention.

"License to traffic in intoxicating liquors shall hereafter be granted in this state, and license laws operative throughout the state shall be passed with such restrictions and regulations as the general assembly may provide, and the general assembly may authorize municipal corporations and townships to provide for the limitation of the number of saloons and for the payment of the amount of license fees, in whole or in part, under general laws applicable thereto; provided that where the traffic is or may be prohibited under laws applying to counties, municipalities, townships or residence districts, or other districts prescribed by law, the traffic shall not be licensed in any such local subdivision while any prohibitory law is operative therein, and no such restriction shall be so construed as to repeal, modify or suspend any such prohibitory laws now or hereafter enacted or to prevent the future enactment, modification or repeal of any similar prohibitory or regulatory law.
